KICKSTARTER

Hello,

This is a message from Kickstarter's Trust and Safety team. We're writing to inform you that a project you backed, 3D Scanner: Creality CR-Scan Lizard Captures Details of View, is the subject of an intellectual property dispute.

The law requires that we remove the project from public view until the dispute is resolved (please see our Copyright Policy and Trademark Policy for more info).

Because the project already ended successfully, your pledge hasn't been affected. The creator should still be able to move forward with the project (and send any unfulfilled rewards). If you have any questions, though, you can still message the creator from the project page.
